$500,000.00 to $1,000,000.00	..	..	..	..	..	$300.00

Any warehouse, stockyard, or other establishment or business which derives any portion of its income from the sale of second-hand items or new items by others on its business premises shall procure or have those others on its premises procure a separate license for the operation of this business on their property in addition to any other license required hereinabove.

It is recognized that certain persons gather, particularly at the stockyard, and perhaps at other locations, to sell various items. If these locations presently have a license to transact some other business such as a stockyard or tobacco warehouse, it shall be the option of the owner/operator of the business premises to obtain a separate license for the sale by others second-hand items on his business premises.

However, it shall be required of those individuals selling such items on those business premises either to purchase a license themselves under the provisions of this Ordinance or to operate under a license purchased by the owner or operator of the business premises. No one shall engage in selling such items without first having made inquiry of the existence of such license, and the failure to do so or the erroneous presumptions by them of the existence of compliance by the owner/operator of the business premises is not a legal excuse for non-compliance of this Ordinance.

The license fee required shall be based on the number of persons, tables, or booths, whichever is the greatest number, at the business location. For a business which has operated the preceeding year, the estimate for the license shall be made by the owner of that business based upon that previous year's business or his estimate for the prospective year.

If a license is purchased and it is later determined by the operator of the business premises before a citation of violation of this Ordinance is written by the proper law enforcement authority, a license for a greater number may be obtained by him and the City Clerk shall credit him for the amount previously paid for the prior license and charge only the difference between the prior license issued that year and the license for the greater number, based on the number and license fees hereinafter stated.

Ordinance No. 799 - Cont'd.

The license fee based on persons, tables, or booths, whichever of the three (3) is greatest, shall be as follows:

Individual's license . . . . .	$ 50.00
Less than 10 . . . . .	$ 150.00
Less than 25 . . . . .	$ 300.00
Less than 40 . . . . .	$ 500.00
Less than 60 . . . . .	$ 750.00
Less than 100 . . . . .	$ 1,000.00
More than 100 . . . . .	$ 1,500.00

If at any given time there are present on the licensed premises more than ten (10) persons, tables, or booths than the premises licensed, the operator of the premises shall be liable under the penalty provisions of this Ordinance in addition to being required to purchase an appropriate license.

An individual on the business premises of a licensed operator with five (5) or fewer items shall not be included when calculating the number of persons, tables, or booths mentioned hereinabove.

An individual who conducts a "yard sale" on his own premises may conduct the same without securing a license if such a sale is not conducted more than five (5) times per year. If a "yard sale" or similar sale is made more frequently than five (5) times per year, that person is subject to the same provision and enforcements.

The owner or operator of a premises is not responsible for procuring a license for the sale of items by others on his premises as is described hereinabove, if such sales are business conducted no more than two (2) times per year.

Be it further enacted that nothing in this Ordinance shall require the City Council to grant a license or privilege to any individual firm or corporation if said Council in its judgment feels that the article, articles or service to be sold are of questionable value, and are such that their sale might become an imposition upon the part of purchasers who are not posted as to value.

I.C.C. Tags are exonerated, but must be presented to the City Clerk for such exoneration.

All money received for license fees under this Ordinance shall be deposited to the credit of the Current Expense Fund, and used for the general expense of the City.

Ordinance No. 799 - Cont'd.

Any person, firm or corporation engaging in any business, profession or calling, or the doing of anything for which a license is required under this Ordinance without having first complied with the requirements of this Ordinance is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than $100.00 or imprisoned in the County Jail for not more than thirty (30) days, or both. Each day of conducting business under any of the trades, occupations, professions, trade or items mentioned in this Ordinance without compliance with this Ordinance shall be deemed a separate offense. No prosecution under this Ordinance shall bar a civil action, nor shall it relieve a requirement of later compliance with this Ordinance.

All privilege license mentioned herein, shall become due and payable on January 1 of each year. Thirty days after such license become due they will be deemed delinquent, and a penalty of ten percent of the amount of the license will be added thereto, and no license will be issued until all fees are paid, including penalties due thereon.

All privilege licenses shall be for full amount if the business was established before June 30, thereafter, one half the amount.

For non-payment of license within 30 days after penalty date, the city council may at its discretion instruct the Mayor to order such places of business closed.

If any section, paragraph, or part of this Ordinance shall be held unconstitutional, excessive or otherwise illegal or void the remaining parts of this Ordinance shall continue and remain in full force and effect notwithstanding such decision or ruling.

All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

No license issued under this Ordinance is subject to refund nor may they be transferred except by approval of the City Council and the City Clerk shall make and keep a record thereof.
